About the National Organization for Women: Founded in 1966, NOW has grown into the largest women's rights organization in this country. Members are actively involved in every issue relating to full equality for women in our society--reproductive rights, violence against women, economic rights, eliminating racism, lesbian and gay rights, education discrimination, homemaker's rights, the needs of women and their children, older women's rights, the rights of disabled women, the equal rights amendment, helping feminist women move into policy-making positions, and more!

About the Chicago Chapter of NOW: Established in 1967, the Chicago chapter of NOW relies on the tireless dedication of volunteers – including our Board of Directors and individual members who generously donate their time. Chicago NOW is primarily a social action organization, and does not provide direct services or advocacy. However, we have relationships with women-centered service organizations and can provide referrals when requested. Chicago NOW is active in cosponsoring events and activities with other allied groups, as well as holding our own events dedicated towards advancing the rights of women in Chicago. Chicago NOW has an organized Political Action Committee (PAC), which makes voting recommendations based on each candidate's platform for addressing issues important to the lives of Chicago women. NOW focuses its programming on five primary issue areas, and has established Action Teams which meet regularly to discuss issues and plan events. These groups are open to the public and are a great opportunity to get involved! Our Action Teams are listed below with contact information to sign up for more information and meeting updates.
